GLENDALE HIGH WINS

FOOTBALL ELEVEN DEFEATS SOUTH PASADENA HERE BY SCORE OF 14 TO 6

By GIL A. COWAN

Scoring first and last, outplaying and outweighing South Pasadena's High School eleven, the Glendale Union High School team won yesterday's game on the home gridiron by a score of 14-6.

Throughout, the game was hard fought but superlative playing on the part of several Glendale stars kept victory away from "Tiny" Leonard's South Pasadena organization which was over-confident of victory.

Don Wieman, Glendale's fast fullback, went over the line for the first touchdown, kicking as neat a goal as you please. This was in the latter part of the first half.

South Pasadena retaliated by getting a touchdown, carried over by Quarter-back Hine, in the earlier part of the second session. The pigskin failed to fly over goal properly when kicked with the resultant score of 7 to 6.

Then it was that Glendale began to play. Smashing plunges by Wieman and McCluskey gave Tummel, Glendale's speedboy quarterback who can call signals faster than thought, opportunity to make the final touchdown. Once again Wieman kicked goal leaving the final score 14-6.

Much could be said in praise of Coach Hayhurst's team, several star plays being made by Tummel, Wieman, et al. Next week Glendale will meet Citrus Union High at Covina at which time the Suburban League championship will be decided. Had South Pasadena won yesterday it would have been the pennant winner as Citrus Union went down before them previous to the "flu" epidemic.

Glendale remains undefeated in the Suburban League by its victory yesterday.

The teams lined up as follows:

Glendale —		S. Pasadena—
W. McIver	le	Barden
K. Wilde	lt	Clark
M. Price	lg	North
G. McIver	c	Wride
P. Richardson	rg	Whiting
H. Moyse	rt	Freeman
B. McMillian	re	Marsh
R. Tummel	qb	Hine
A. Williams	lh	Fulton
H. Thompson	rh	Vanatta
D. Wieman	fb	Hopkins

Touchdowns: Glendale, Wieman, Tummel; South Pasadena, Hine; goals, Glendale, Wieman (2).

Referee, Rhinehart; umpire, Trotter; head linesman, Maj. Downing.

Coaches: Glendale, N. C. Hayhurst; South Pasadena, "Tiny" Leonard.

PVT. LYONS' SERVICE

NEWSY LETTER DESCRIBES HIS JOURNEY FROM CAMP KEARNY TO GERMAN SOIL

The following is a letter written by one of Glendale's own boys who is still in France, who is anxious to get home, but who is unselfish enough to be glad to allow those who have been in the thickest of the fight the first passage home. Private First Class James G. Lyons of Field Hospital 157 is the son of M. Lyons of Maple avenue, and enlisted immediately after Uncle Sam declared war on the Hun. But like many another of Uncle Sam's fighting men, he was unfortunate (according to his way of thinking) enough to arrive after the scrap was all over:

France, Nov. 24, 1918.

Dear Dad:—

Today is "Dad's Letter-writing Day" and we are all writing home to our dads. The "Stars and Stripes," our newspaper over here, tells us the censorship has been lifted and that we can tell where we are and a lot of things. I will tell about our trip from the time we left Camp Kearny.

We left Camp Kearny in Pullman cars and it was a dandy trip we had from there to Texas, then to Canada and then down to Camp Mills, Long Island. From Jersey City we sailed up the Hudson River to Brooklyn and got the train to Camp Mills. For four and a half days we remained here, being given physical examinations every day and being outfitted with clothing for overseas. The camp

A STREAM OF ANSWERS

In contributing an ad to the classified ad columns of the Evening News, C. M. Walton, of North Central avenue, this city, specified it was to run but once because the last time he advertised patrons fairly streamed over to his place, one man coming from as far away as Garvanza. He declares there is no question but that Glendale's daily is effective as an advertising medium.

TROPICO TROOP BOY SCOUTS GO CAMPING

This is "Anniversary Week" for Boy Scouts of America. Tropico No. 1 Troop—said to be the first one organized in Southern California—is spending the week-end at Camp Arthur Letts, northwest of Hollywood. Several hundred other Scouts will be there and it will be a big event. The troop will be in charge of Sr. Patrol Robert Searle.

NEW LEASE OF LIFE

GLENDALE HORSESHOE CLUB ENLARGES ITS SCOPE OF ACTIVITIES

As an old apple tree when pruned and cultivated sends out new growth and becomes fruitful, so the Glendale Horseshoe Club which for long has rambled on content with horseshoe pitching as its only diversion, has taken on new life.

With the natural growth of the organization some of the more aged members began to feel that perhaps they were in the way as the pitching space was well occupied and they were hardly up to the muscular effort of the contest. Then someone conceived the idea of putting in croquet and it proved to be a great idea by providing a quiet, leisurely game which the veterans could play without overtaxing their strength, and get some compensation for dues paid besides the fellowship of the club. Some of the younger members have succumbed to the charm of the old-fashioned sport and a second court has been prepared. Both are now in constant use and eight new members have joined since the club enlarged its activities. There is no telling where it will stop with such a new lease of life and first anybody knows it will be developing into the Glendale Country Club with golf links and "sech."

J. D. Porter is president of the club and Walter Nicoles it ssecretary-treasurer. Its membership, which is large, includes a great many business men.

A VARIETY PROGRAM

The show today at the Palace Grand ought to make an universal appeal, for there will be something to suit every taste. To begin with Marguerite Clark, who counts her friends by the thousands, will be seen as Nancy in "Little Miss Hoover," the scene of which is laid in Maryland. It is full of delightful humor. The two-reel comedy, "Proposing Bill," will be an added attraction which in its turn will be supplemented vaudeville in pictures, a new way of seeing some marvelous stunts. There will be the usual children's matinee at 2:30 and two evening shows.

Sunday the famous drama, "Silver King," will be given a screen presentation with the well-known actors, William Faversham and Barbara Castleton, in the cast. It has plenty of thrills and is full of fine sentiment. There will also be a two-reel Mack Sennett comedy, "The Village Chestnut."

Monday the screen dramatized version of what is considered the greatest novel written by David Graham Phillips (now dead), will be seen with Lilian Walker in the leading part. The Pathe review of European events will also be shown.

FOR WILLISFORDS

RECEPTION AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH FOR RETURNING PASTOR AND FAMILY

Last evening in the First Congregational Church the members and friends of the church tendered a reception to their pastor, Rev. E. H. Willisford, and his family.

Four speeches of welcome were given, each telling in a happy, clever manner his appreciation of the pastor, and sincere thankfulness for his return after a year in Y. M. C. A. service abroad.

A welcome in behalf of the pastors of Glendale was given by Rev. C. A. Cole; a welcome in behalf of the men of the church, by W. D. McRae; in behalf of the women of the church, by Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson; in behalf of the friends of the church, by J. H. Franklin.

Then followed two musical numbers, a vocal solo by Mrs. Gladys Stewart and a piano solo by Mr. Newell, both of which were encored and thoroughly enjoyed.

A social hour followed, during which the girls of the Young People's Society served fruitade and cakes.

INTERNATIONAL GOVERNING BOARD

CONSTITUTION OF LEAGUE PROVIDES FOR ITS CONTROL BY REPRESENTATIVES OF ALLIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, Feb. 8.—Announcement was made this afternoon that the league of nations' constitution was virtually completed at today's meeting. Lord Cecil of Great Britain, Premier Venezilos, Paul Hymann of Belgium and one French representative were named to make the final draft of the constitution. It will be ready for presentation to the peace conference by the middle of next week.

Today's meeting was held to speed work which has been delayed by numerous disagreements, all of which have been amicably settled.

Owing to the delay in the formation of the league's constitution, President Wilson will not leave France before next Friday.

It was reliably learned it has been decided that an executive board composed of one representative each of the United States, England, France, Italy and Japan, and two representatives from the combined smaller nations, will be the governing body of the league.

ATTEMPTED BRIBERY CHARGED BY HENEY

SAYS ATTORNEY FOR ARMOUR CO. OFFERED HIM "MORE BUSINESS THAN YOU CAN HANDLE."

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, Feb. 8.—Francis J. Heney today charged before the Senate hearing of the meat packers' investigation that Levy Mayer, attorney for the Armour Company, had offered to buy him with an offer of "more business than you can handle."

He declared the same offer was made to Franch Walsh of the War Labor Board.

Heney said he made the charge now because Mayer is in Washington and can answer it. Mayer will be called as one of the witnesses next week.

"I think such a man should be disbarred from practicing law," Heney declared.

ARMISTICE IN BRITISH STRIKE

LONDON ANNOUNCES THAT MOST OF THE STRIKERS ARE LIKELY TO RETURN TO THEIR JOBS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

London, Feb. 8.—An armistice apparently has been effected in the British labor strike. Most of the strikers are expected to resume work.

"STRIKE BROKEN," SAYS SEATTLE MAYOR

STRIKERS FAIL TO REPLY TO HIS ULTIMATUM ANNOUNCING INTENT TO OPERATE PUBLIC UTILITIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Seattle, Feb. 8.—Mayor Hanson issued a statement at 9:15 this morning, saying "The strike is broken." He made this statement after eight o'clock had passed and the strikers had not replied to his ultimatum of yesterday, that he would operate public utilities with the aid of troops, if necessary, in order that business might be resumed.

The mayor declared that street cars had started running on regular schedule on the municipal line and that other lines would be operated with municipal cars if they did not resume with their own equipment.

E. B. Ault, spokesman for the strikers, denied that the strike was broken and declared that union pickets had reported that only one street car was operating.

The mayor announced he would not ask for a declaration of martial law unless there were actual disturbances. He said the city government was in entire control of the situation. At noon everything was quiet.

The mayor today issued an appeal to citizens to contribute automobiles to operate a municipal jitney line. Labor leaders said this plan would fail.

During the morning a few shops began opening, and by noon there were some signs of business resumption. Strike leaders declared they did not believe the government would declare martial law, even if the mayor asked for it.

It was currently reported that a settlement of the strike by agreement was imminent.

During the morning the entire police department was ready for the mayor's call to protect merchants who wanted to resume business, but no extraordinary demands were made.

Portland, Oregon, Feb. 8.—Several Seattle families arrived today and took quarters in Portland hotels for the duration of the Seattle strike.

Major General Morrison, commander of the Department of the West, arrived this morning en route for Seattle and left an hour later. He refused to make any statement.

160,000 SOLDIERS TO COME HOME IN FEBRUARY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, Feb. 8.—Chief of Staff General March announced today that 160,000 soldiers would be brought home during February. Eleven thousand left France February 5.

STOLEN GLENDALE AUTO RECOVERED IN BERKELEY

Mrs. C. W. Houston, of Myrtle Ave., whose car was stolen two weeks ago, has received the following telegram from the Chief of Police in Berkeley: "Your car has been left here by a young fellow who has left for parts unknown." Mr. Houston's brother in Oakland has inspected it and reports it in fine condition and intact even to the robe. He will probably drive it down.

CHAPLAIN BROUGHER

LOCAL CHURCH MAY SECURE POPULAR YOUNG PREACHER FOR SUPPLY DURING SUMMER

Chaplain Russell Morse Brougher will preach at the First Baptist Church in Glendale Sunday, both morning and evening. It is hoped by the Baptist congregation that young Brougher may be secured as acting pastor for a few months until he goes east to Rochester Seminary to complete his theological education. Lieut. Brougher was chaplain of the 40th Artillery Regiment, C. A. C., and has just returned from service. He is only 22 years of age and was the youngest chaplain in the United States Army. He is the son of Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, the popular pastor of the great Temple Baptist Church in Los Angeles. He is a graduate of Occidental College, and during his college days captured first place in the Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest of the State. He became known as a forceful speaker during the Dry Campaign, and is regarded as one of the most brilliant young preachers in the country. He has preached for his father on several occasions, and was enthusiastically received by the big congregations in the Temple. His subject for Sunday morning will be "Winners Today, Conquerors Tomorrow." At night he will speak on "Backbone or Wishbone."

ASSEMBLYMAN WHITE

WILL DISCUSS PENDING LEGISLATION AT MASS MEETING TUESDAY

Assemblyman John Robert White, Jr., will speak in the High School auditorium, Glendale, Tuesday evening, February 11th, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Greater Glendale Development Association. Norton C. Wells, chairman of the association, will preside.

Everybody is invited to attend this meeting to hear Mr. White and to ask questions at the close of his address.

LYONS-ANDERSON WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. M. Lyons of 321 East Maple avenue announce the marriage of their daughter, Isabel Marian Lyons, to Anderson B. Cunningham, February 1, 1919. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles H. Scott, pastor of the First Methodist Church of this city. The young people are now at home to their friends at 321 E. Maple street.

ROOSEVELT'S CONTRIBUTION TO NATIONAL LIFE

In his talk at the meeting of the Cerritos P.-T. A. on "Patriotism as a Ballast," Rev. Charles H. Scott included in his quartette of the four great Americans, Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt and Wilson. He said Roosevelt had not been dead long enough for his full value to stand out, and that his contribution to our national life was not so much in the directing of our activities as in the directing of the thoughts of the American nation.

THE NEW MANUAL

REVOLUTION IN PHYSICAL TRAINING OF CHILDREN IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Yesterday was a busy one for teachers and some of the pupils in the Glendale grammar schools, but it was a busier day for Prof. J. B. Nash, Assistant State Superintendent of Physical Training, who gave demonstrations all day for the instruction of the assembled teachers in the use of the manual which is being introduced into the schools to unify the system.

The morning work which concerned the four lower grades, was conducted at the Colorado Street School and was mostly indoors. There he laid considerable stress on frequent brief rest periods which might involve just a change of position or of posture and in that connection he laid great emphasis on correct posture in sitting, standing and walking. The school felt very proud when he picked out a girl pupil in Miss Waite's room as having the most correct posture of any child he had seen in California. For his outdoor work there he gave what he called "group games" as opposed to team games. There are many such in use to choose from of the type of "Prisoners' Base." He has little patience with calisthenics which he pronounces almost ridiculous, declaring that they should never be used with the smaller school children. He would substitute games instead where there would be interest and enthusiasm in action.

MILLIGANS BEREAVED

PROSTRATED BY SUDDEN DEATH OF DAUGHTER IN KANSAS CITY

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Milligan, of 114 East Park avenue, have been shocked and Mrs. Milligan is prostrated with grief caused by a telegram, received last night, announcing the death of her youngest daughter, Mrs. Gladys Funk, of Kansas City. The cause of death was not stated in the message and they are awaiting further particulars.

Mrs. Milligan returned from Kansas City only three weeks ago and Mrs. Funk was then in seemingly perfect health. She visited Glendale several years ago and made a host of friends while here who will be grieved by this news. Her sister, Mrs. O. M. Carpenter, formerly of Central avenue, this city, now resides in Los Angeles.

REALISM AT HIGH SCHOOL

Members of the dramatic class of Glendale Union High who have to fill in turn the role of director and of player had some excitement the other day in the production of the playlet, "The Price of Coal," directed by Martha Ray. The setting called for a grate fire which was represented in the usual manner with electric light bulbs and red paper. To add to its suggestiveness a real match was struck when the glow was started and the players then forgot everything else in the business of the scene. The match which had ambitions of its own had not been completely extinguished and proceeded to arrange a little diversion all by itself. When the play was at its climax and the players absorbed in the action with their backs to the grate, it merrily blazed up. The spectators were filled with admiration over this clever bit of realism until an humble "scrub" realized that something not in the plot was happening and proceeded to squelch the outlaw, after the fireplace had been nearly consumed and a curtain scorched.

BRIDGE WHIST PARTY

Mrs. John H. Ireland of 211 Milford street, entertained at bridge whist on Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. W. D. Haywood and Mrs. T. Hunter, mother and daughter from Vancouver, B. C., who are guests in Glendale for the winter. The house was made beautiful with decorations of acacia blossoms, carnations and violets.

Ladies present were: Mrs. W. D. Haywood, Mrs. T. Hunter, Mrs. Frank Rochester, Mrs. J. A. Shram, Mrs. Blake Franklin, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. MacIntyre, Mrs. Bondeaux, Mrs. C. B. Wilde, Mrs. Betzyorb, Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, Mrs. W. A. Woodward of Pasadena, Mrs. Frazee, Mrs. Philip Welch, Mrs. Lawrence of Vancouver, Mrs. Goodrich of Casa Verdugo and Mrs. Cleveland.

Dainty refreshments were served. Clusters of English violets were the favors.

COMMENT OF THE COUNTRYSIDE

"One thousand returned soldiers out of work in Los Angeles," commented a business man at Broadway and Glendale avenue, "and here we have a half-hundred Mexican laborers digging up the city streets (Broadway contract improvement)when they ought to be in the southern republic making that a decent place in which to live."

City Manager T. W. Watson is aware of the above mentioned situation, and declares it is not within the city's jurisdiction to interfere. He states that in the future contractors will have this point to consider, however, in the securing of contracts. He favors giving the returned soldiers work wherever possible.

Beautiful weather, many tourists, and a spirit of enterprise on every side give Glendale an air of decided prosperity. Today the local stores are well filled. It is understood that several empty store buildings will be filled shortly with more merchants and more goods.

Glendale will profit decidedly when the nation goes dry. From the standpoints of scenery, boulevards and numerous other natural advantages, this city is bound to become a tourist center. Visions of the future hold forth two or more magnificent tourist hotels with their banquet rooms, dance floors and country clubs in the adjoining hills.

NOT PLANTING IN DARK OF THE MOON

George Smith, gardener for the Glendale Sanitarium, has been hard at work for the past few days planting White Rose potatoes on the vacant lots at the northwest corner of Broadway and Jackson streets.

The soil is exactly right, and so mellowed by the culture he gave it last year in his planting of squashes that it tempts every lover of gardening to stop and help with the job. Mr. Smith would be glad to use the whole of the tract, which has been made a dumping ground for sand and trash and which resembles the pictures of No Man's Land in its hummocks and holes, but he has neither a tractor nor a good, strong work team to plow and grade the northern part.

It would be a fine job for a tractor demonstration and it would vastly improve the appearance of the street were it graded and in cultivation. It will be noticed that Mr. Smith is not planting in the dark of the moon.

PUTTING THRIFT INTO VALENTINE DAY

Putting thrift into Valentine Day, February 14, is the latest objective of the government's war saving strategy. Substitute the thrift stamp for the little valentine and let the big war savings stamp, bearing the benign countenance of Benjamin Franklin, carry your greeting instead of the usual big box of finery, is the urge of thrift stamp workers.

There is no desire, say the officials, to take away any sentiment from this age-old custom of sending valentines, but rather to put into it an element of strength which will aid in perpetuating the custom with young America.

"As for the comics, we have no remedy or substitute," declared Samuel Hubbard of the war savings division. Thrift stamps are not an antidote for them, nor will thrift stamps aid in encouraging this phase of Valentine Day observance."

FEDERAL AID TO EDUCATION

The United States has a dangerously large illiterate class, large enough for a breeding ground for anarchy. Five and a half million Americans the age of ten years or older can neither read nor write. In the first draft were 700,000 young men who could not read English and the larger part of them could not speak it.

Such a condition is the result of culpable neglect, for our American illiteracy could be remedied in a short time at comparatively small cost, if the remedy were administered by competent central authority.

A bill now before Congress provides for a federal department of education with an annual fund of a hundred million dollars to subsidize education in the various states. No state would receive any of this aid unless it complied with the rigid provisions laid down by the federal government. This bill may not provide the wisest remedy for American illiteracy, but the aim to have the federal government take a guiding hand in the education of its citizens is eminently reasonable.

Illiterary and alien sentiment persist chiefly because their eradication is left to the option of the smallest educational unit. It might be said that in the United States the question as to whether this or that school district shall be made American or taught its alphabet is left to the vote of that district. The state may coax and persuade, but it rarely compels a community to be educated in spite of itself.

There must be a power adequate to make the illiterate learn his letters; a power to shut off foreign speech till the home tongue is mastered. If the state will not provide that power, the federal government should. The cure of a nations' illiterary is a national problem, not a local one.

AMERICA FINDS WANT IN CZECHO-SLOVAKIA

By FRED S. FERGUSON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Feb. 7.—Starvation in the midst of potential prosperity is the terrible condition found by Dr. Alonzo Taylor, of the University of Pennsylvania, in Czecho-Slovakia and in other portions of the former Austrian empire.

Dr. Taylor, who has been conducting an investigation for the United States food administration, today gave the United Press a review of conditions he found in Prague, Vienna, Budapest, and other large cities. It is the first unbiased report of these conditions, made by a man selected by responsible authority to conduct a thorough inquiry.

The picture Dr. Taylor drew is one of closed factories, stilled industries, and streets filled with hungry, unemployed men and women. The factories are there, and the workers, but there is no raw material on which to go to work.

The Czecho-Slavs, however, remain undismayed, Dr. Taylor says, and have established a strong government. There is no factionalism in this new republic, but a strong feeling of nationalism which is bound to pull the people through their time of trial, provided some assistance is furnished.

"The people of the world must realize," said Dr. Taylor, "that four or five divided parts of Austria-Hungary must be dealt with entirely apart from Germany. They have nothing to do with Germany. The Czecho-Slavs, of course, furnish the best known example. They never sympathized with Germany or with German Austria, and thousands of them were shot by the Austrian government because of their opposition to the war. M. Krmaracz, present Czecho-Slav premier, was in prison 26 months, under sentence of death, because of his anti-Austrian attitude.

"After more than 100 years of oppression, the Czecho-Slavs now see the realization of their national ideals just ahead. But they look to America for help, because of America's disinterested position with regard to European policies. They need food and raw materials.

"They cannot pay cash at present, but point to their textiles, their sugar, and their coal. Their textile industries are comparable to those of Manchester, their iron industries with those of Pittsburg. Bohemian glass and porcelains are known throughout the world.

"All these struggling Czecho-Slavs ask is credit and a chance to work. They want nothing for nothing, but will pay for every pound of food and raw materials, if America will help them to get upon their feet now."

Dr. Taylor declared the people of Austria-Hungary realize that they are thoroughly beaten. Aside from a few aristocrats in German Austria, he says, the entire people is thoroughly disillusioned about the Germans.

Bolshevism, Dr. Taylor declared, is threatening to make rapid progress in the various units that once made up the Austro-Hungarian empire.

"There is no spirit of Bolshevism among the Czecho-Slavs," he said, "but it is coming from them at the outside. Bolshevists from industrial centers are urging the Czecho workers to seize the shops and mines, declaring everyone has money in Russia except the rich. The Bolshevist propaganda among the Czech coalfields is coming from Prussian Silesia.

"Food and work are the only effective weapons with which to fight Bolshevist propaganda."

As to the food situation, Dr. Taylor said: "There is a great shortage of potatoes. I did not see a potato in the markets of Prague, Budapest or Vienna. There is less than 25 per cent. of a normal supply of milk. Meat is scarce. The poor live on coarse bread, cabbage, turnips, and roots commonly used for cattle feed. The fat ration is 60 grams weekly. There is some tea, but no coffee."

Tuberculosis and other diseases due to undernourishment are widespread, the investigator said. The death rate among infants and old persons is far above normal. Hospitals are in terrible condition, having been stripped of equipment by the Austrian armies.

There is a striking difference between Germans and Austro-Hungarians in regard to their attitude toward their former countrymen who live in the United States, Dr. Taylor points out. He was told by Germans in Switzerland that the Germans will never forgive their countrymen in America who remained loyal to the United States. On the other hand, he learned, Austro-Hungarians look upon loyalty to America on the part of Americans from Austro-Hungary as a virtue. Americans and Englishmen were not interned in Austro-Hungary during the war, but had the same rights as neutrals.

Socialists and Germans in Austria, according to Dr. Taylor, are supporting the movement for joining German Austria to Bavaria.

The streets are filled with the jobless, since demobilization began in the Austro-Hungarian countries. Enlisted men, Dr. Taylor noticed, ignore their own officers, but do not fail to salute American and British officers. Only one train a day is run from one large city to another. Vienna, Prague and Budapest are almost in darkness at night, because there is not enough coal above ground to permit lighting.

"In spite of such conditions," says Dr. Taylor, "there is only optimism and determination among the Czecho-Slavs. Only the Czech language is spoken among the intensely nationalistic Czechs. German signs have been removed from the shops. But their own oppression has not caused the Czechs to lose their sense of fairness. The Germans in Prague speak their own language unmolested."

George Noyes, a bicycle delivery boy employed by Roberts & Echols drug store, had his wheel smashed this morning when an automobile struck it. The lad was uninjured.

Personals

The Epworth League of the Riverdale M. E. Church enjoyed a very successful social at the parsonage on Glendale Ave. Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Kenneth Road are leaving for Desert Inn, at Palm Springs, where they plan to spend the coming week in rest and recuperation.

Frank E. Peters of 501 East Palmer avenue has been in Arizona for a couple of months in the government service, in connection with Indian affairs. It is probable that he will be there until spring.

George Vradenburg of 415 West Dryden street, who developed quite a serious case of influenza, has been removed to a Los Angeles hospital. His little daughter, Ruth, died of the disease a few months ago.

L. W. Larritt, who was a resident of Glendale a number of years ago, and who is at present manager of the Westminster Hotel in Los Angeles, called upon his old friends at Somerset Farm on Friday last.

Mrs. M. A. Anderson, of Isabel street, who returned from a rest home in Los Angeles about a week ago, is now able to be up and around but not very strong. She suffered a nervous breakdown following influenza.

Hunford Samuel Richards of 343 Salem street, who was inducted into the army August 28th and has been in service in Company F, First Infantry, at Camp Lewis, has just been discharged and returned to his home in Glendale.

Lloyd Lanterman, of La Canada, is home from March Aviation Field on a sick leave furlough, but is recuperating and will soon be able to return. He is in the mechanical section and is not likely to be released very soon.

F. D. Lanterman, of La Canada, chairman of the local Exemption Board, has been confined to his home by illness—not influenza—but is better and hopes soon to be well enough to return to the Board work, which will soon be closed up.

Mrs. Samuel Massengell, of Bristol, Tenn., and Mrs. E. P. Pendleton, of Fort Worth, Texas, are guests today of Mrs. Joseph Griffin, of Acacia avenue. They are en route for the northern part of the state where they will visit their sister, Mrs. Nell Weiler, at Capitola.

Mrs. K. Hahn and her daughter, Lilian Hahn, of Omaha, who had expected to spend the winter in Los Angeles, liked Glendale so much that they have taken an apartment at 236 North Louise street, where they will be at home to their friends for several weeks.

Forrest W. Wood, of San Luis Obispo, is spending a few days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wood, 1470 E. Wilson avenue. Mrs. Wood is also entertaining her sister, Mrs. R. D. Edmondson, and her daughter, Miss Fannie Edmondson, of Oxnard, this week.

The Women's Senior Bible Class of the First Baptist Church of Glendale, met Thursday at the church where the morning was devoted to tacking the last of one hundred small quilts for children's use, and two large comforters, which the organization has made. Lunch was served at noon and in the afternoon a business session was held. Besides the regular membership of the class, a good many ladies of the church who are not members were in attendance.

Roy Salyer, nephew of Alfred M. Salyer of this city, accompanied by his father, spent Friday in Glendale with his uncle. He has but recently returned from overseas with the "Grizzlies," who reached the front just too late to get into action, and who were bundled home again without having any furloughs which would afford them a chance to see something of Paris and other French cities. It was a sad home-coming to young Salyer as his mother passed away just three weeks before he arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lynn, of Salt Lake, who had occasion to pass through Los Angeles en route to their home from Oakland, Cal., came out to Glendale for a few hours today to call upon the uncle of Mrs. Lynn, Wolford E. King, of 424 North Glendale avenue. Mr. Lynn is a member of the famous drill team of the Denver Elks and has high rank in the order. He has been in Southern California before in attendance on an Elks' Conclave and says he would like to come here to live if he could make business arrangements that would be satisfactory to him.

DIFFERENT

Only a few years ago a life-insurance man had to spend a large part of his time in convincing men of the value of insurance and of their need of it.

Some people were so prejudiced against it that they would hardly treat an agent with civility.

But this situation exists no more.

Government indorsement of insurance and the "epidemic" which still exists have shown the great necessity of insurance protection as never before, and I am now called up and stopped on the street where such things were formerly almost unheard-of.

There are very few people who do not need insurance and MORE insurance. Doubtless you are one. Can I not serve you?

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

With the exception of a few changes, the program of the Tuesday Afternoon Club for February 11th will be carried out as scheduled. Dr. James Francis will deliver an address "With Our Boys in England" and Dr. E. H. Willisford "With Our Boys in France." These speakers need no further introduction, as both are too well-known for further comment.

The Trench Songs, which were to have been given by our returned soldiers and sailors, will be given at a later date, in conjunction with Husbands' Day on April 8th, when more of "Our Boys" have returned from the trenches.

The musical part of the program will be given by Mrs. Charles A. Parker. A group of songs, "Red Is the English Rose," by Forsyth; "Pray We for America," words and music by Mr. C. A. Parker, husband of the soloist; "Britons Remember," words by Mr. C. A. Parker and music by Mr. George Bowles.

The club wishes to assure the mothers of little folks that there will be a nurse to care for them during the club meeting.

READING CIRCLE

On account of the absence this week of Mrs. C. H. Toll, the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle, which meets regularly at her home on Wednesdays, will postpone its coming meeting and will not assemble until the 19th. On the 26th of February there will be a celebration of the third anniversary of the organization, with a special program contributed by talented members, arranged by Mrs. John W. Cotton, who will have charge of the celebration.

EVOLUTION OF PHYSICAL TRAINING

To Glendale Evening News:—Mention was made in yesterday's issue of the parade of the Glendale Union High School Cadet Battalion. The importance of this movement is hardly realized as yet by any of us. It gives the boys healthful exercise, body building and a habit of implicit obedience. The Major Commandant, Normal C. Hayhurst, is regularly commissioned by the state and is also an officer of the High School. There is now a student membership of 165. There are three companies, each with a captain, two lieutenants, six sergeants and six corporals, all elected from the student members. They also choose a major of the battalion. Drills are held each afternoon during school sessions and battalion drill on Fridays. Membership is compulsory with Seniors and Juniors, but voluntary with Sophomores and Freshmen. The U. S. Government furnishes arms and ammunition. There are about 60 old Springfield rifles now on hand, but new Krags will be furnished for all, later. Foot movements, school of the company are given the boys first, then the manual of arms, then company and battalion drill. Target practice will come later. While the battalion now comprises but three companies, others may be added, with increasing High School attendance, up to six companies.

Major Hayhurst is thoroughly in love with his work and we look for great results from his energy and enthusiasm.

INTERESTED PARENT.

INTERMEDIATE P.-T. A.

The regular meeting of the Intermediate Parent-Teacher Association, the second this year, will be held Monday afternoon at the school at 3:15 o'clock. A patriotic program has been arranged and Rev. Clifford Cole will make the leading address, his theme being: "Let Us Finish This War." Mrs. Hartley Shaw will sing "The Rose of No-Man's Land" and there will be other musical numbers, including the singing of the National hymn.

CERRITOS AVENUE P.-T. A.

The meeting of the Cerritos Avenue Parent-Teacher Association Thursday afternoon was one of the largest and most satisfactory meetings in the history of the association. Over one hundred persons were present.

The exit of the seventh and eighth grades, via the fire escapes, brought the question of better fire escapes before the association.

Rev. Scott was the speaker of the afternoon and his theme, "February as a Memorial Month," was well received.

Mrs. H. W. Timothy gave two delightful recitations.

Refreshments were served and all report a delightful afternoon.

To stimulate interest in attendance on the meeting, a cake guaranteed to be as good as it looked was given by Mrs. William C. Wattles as a prize for the schoolroom securing the largest attendance of mothers. The premium went to the room over which Miss Hazel Small presides and Friday afternoon, while she was in attendance on the demonstrations at the Intermediate School her pupils enjoyed a little party at which the cake was consumed with an informal program of readings provided by Mrs. Harwood, wife of the principal of the school.

GLEN EYRIE PARTY

Glen Eyrie Chapter of the Eastern Star has been disappointed in securing Masonic Hall for February 22d for its long-promised party. The date has therefore been postponed and the party will be given Saturday evening, March 1st, or one week later than originally planned. It is a function for members and the friends of members who will be entertained with cards and dancing.

THE ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL

The following program has been secured for the memorial services which will be held by the N. P. Banks Post and Corps at Grand Army Hall on Glendale avenue Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

1. "Star-Spangled Banner," to be sung by audience.
2. Scripture Reading by Comrade Leclaire.
3. Prayer.
4. Duet by Mesdames Dorothy Van Wie and Winona Crawford.
5. Memorial address by Rev. H. S. Munger.
6. Vocal solo, Dr. P. O. Lucas.
7. Roll call by Adjutant Tom Barrett.
8. Memorial for deceased members of N. P. Banks Post.
9. Memorial for deceased members of Woman's Relief Corps, Mrs. Julina Hayes.
10. "How Firm a Foundation," by audience.
11. Benediction, Rev. O. P. Rider.

DIVORCES MEAN BETTER WORLD ONE JUDGE THINKS

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 8.—The world is getting better. The increasing number of divorces is the proof.

That is the opinion of Judge Chas. Crail, of the Los Angeles divorce court.

Spread of education, increased prosperity enabling common people to hire lawyers, and publicity are the real reasons behind the increasing divorce rate, Crail believes.

"The question coming up all the time is what is the cause of the greatly increased rate of divorce cases," he declared addressing a meeting of Christian ministers. "It is the result of two things.

"First, the increasing wealth of the people and their education. In years past law and lawsuits were the privilege of the few. The result is we have a great many people now who can afford the advantages of the divorce court who could not in the past.

"Second, many people know of the divorce court by reading about it on the front pages of the daily newspapers, who once knew little of divorce.

"Don't think the greater number of divorce cases indicates the world is getting worse. I believe it is getting better."

In jails and penitentiaries in California the Salvation Army during 1918 conducted 12,382 meetings with an attendance of 627,800. The records show that 4923 discharged prisoners were helped last year with either positions, tools, beds, meals, clothing or transportation.

Advertise it, or advertise for it in the Evening News.

"The man is not your friend who is not willing to serve you, and you are not his friend unless you are willing to serve him. And out of that impulse or common interest and desire of common service arises that noble feeling which we consecrate as friendship."—Woodrow Wilson.

PRIVATE LYONS' SERVICE

itself is large, but there is not much else to it. At 1 o'clock Monday we pulled out for somewhere. We passed through the New England States, and it was some guess as to where we were to embark from. Most of the boys thought Boston was the port we were headed for. But we rode all night and Montreal welcomed us about 11 o'clock next day. After a good cup of coffee furnished by the Red Cross, we embarked on the good ship Victoria. Leaving the docks at 5 o'clock, we sailed up the St. Lawrence River and stayed up there somewhere all night. The next day we passed under the big bridge at Quebec, out the gulf to Sydney, Nova Scotia. After a layover here of five days we pulled out Friday with part of our convoy, the rest of it joining us further out at sea. Some of the roughest water on the trip was in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The rest of the voyage was smooth seas and no storms. Very few of us got sea-sick. I was not sick at all. We landed at Liverpool about 4 p. m., just one month from the day we left good old Camp Kearny on August 31st. We marched through Liverpool and again took the train to South Hampton. But more as to our ocean trip. We slept in hammocks. This was a decided change from the land-lubber's bunk, but we all soon got used to them, but only after a few tumbles out onto the deck. Most of the time we slept out on the deck. Life preservers were worn by everyone all the time except when we slept, and then we used them for pillows. The grub was fair, the crew did the cooking, so we were all free to watch for subs. It was disappointing that not a sub showed its nose at any time on the way over. On the stern of our vesel was a 4.7 gun and a good crew who knew how to use it, besides the thirteen vessels of our convoy.

To while away the time on the boat we had boxing and singing. As a boxer I won quite a reputation, and once since then I had to back up that reputation. Since then I have had no trouble at all.

Detraining at South Hampton, we marched to a rest camp where we remained only over night, and the next morning embarked on the St. George for France. And, believe me, that ship could go some. If a sub had started after us I believe that we could have gone so fast that the sub would have been lost in five minutes. The next morning we were in La Havre, France, remaining for two days in a rest camp. Our arrival here was on the 2d of September. Loading us into box cars we were transported to the middle of France. We here received our first introduction to the British and Canadian troops, and tasted English beer. The train ride was a great experience and to us lots of fun. Box cars are some different from Pullmans, and we did not sleep much during the night of our trip in them. We enjoyed the scenery of France. The closest we have yet gotten to Paris was at Versailles, ten miles from Paris. We could see some of the towers of this great city on our way through to our destination. Our train came to a stop at Sancoins Cher (Providence). Here we remained from the 5th of September until October 9th. It is a pretty place, we had a good barn to sleep in and we liked the place. The eats were good and we had plenty of salmon. Our company was separated from the rest and was sent toward the front on October 29th. We all felt that at last our chance had come to get some action and everybody was happy.

Up to this time all the members of our original company had remained together except one man who had to be taken to the hospital to be operated on for appendicitis. Tell Mother that it was the fellow who was with us and his Mother on the machine from Camp Kearny to San Diego the night the machine went over the bank and we were all piled up. His name was Eddy. We have not lost a man yet since we have been in service. The next place we stopped was a little place called Rosieres en Hayes. It lays between Nancy and Toul. It was here that we were encamped when the armistice was signed. So close to the front, yet we might as well have been a hundred miles away. November 17th we left Rosieres en Hayes, just a week ago today. This time we went to the front in our own large trucks —Packards—they are dandy ones, too. But we did not stop at the front, Dad, but just kept on going. We are now on what was German soil. We were among the first ones here and so were in time to get plenty of souvenirs. The ammunition and guns the Germans left behind were a plenty. When they heard that the armistice was signed they must have dropped everything and started for that dear old Rhine of theirs on the run. Any time we want to go out for target practice we can pick up all the ammunition we need on the way. Gas masks are lying all over the country. The Boches sure didn't have any more use for them. If I should start home with all the souvenirs I would like to bring I would need a trunk and then some. At present I have several styles of bayonets, a helmet and all kinds of buttons, a belt button, a couple of rifles, an automatic revolver and several little things. But when it comes to bringing it back I will probably have to discard the most of it. I surely have traveled around this part of the country a lot, exploring the old battlefields and abandoned camps, and the next traveling I want to do is to travel towards home. You know I was in the service a long time before coming over here and was used to being away from home, but now I will be glad to get back as soon as Uncle Sam is through with us over here. Home is the best spot on earth to us over here. It does not look as though I will be there before Christmas, but it will not be many months before we will all be back and then we can celebrate. I, myself, am satisfied to stay a while longer if the boys who did the front line work get to go back first. The trip has been one of wonderful experiences to me and all the rest. The trip from Rosieres en Hayes to Mars la Tour, where we now are, was some trip, one that I will not attempt to describe on paper. We are almost 12 miles west of Metz, between Metz and Verdun and on the main railroad line between these two places. This country is Alsace-Lorraine where the Germans and French went to it fifty years ago, and since which time it has been German territory. There are several monuments erected and in the bottom of one lie the bones of the unknown dead of that war. It was some sight. The bones were stacked up like cord-wood. The boxes had rotted away exposing their ghastly contents. But dad, from all I have seen and learned, the Germans are not the kind of a race for civilized people to associate with. They are not human and it will be all a fellow can do to treat them decent without having any dealings with them at all. They are poor losers. Although supposed to have the best trained troops in the world, Uncle Sam showed them and the world that his troops had a higher morale, could outshoot them, could whip them in a hand-to-hand fight, could out-maneuver them and excelled in everything but one—the Germans could sure run faster than our troops toward that dear old Rhine River of theirs.

Well, dad, this is some long letter, and I hope you will receive it before Christmas. We are all well and happy. Will close now and hope you will all enjoy a most happy Christmas. We will have a good time and will be looking for our Christmas boxes by the time this reaches you. Say, I forgot to tell you I have a star shell gun in my collection, but it is so large that I do not believe I can get it home. It would make a dandy Fourth of July gun if we had the shells to shoot. The star shells surely are pretty and light up the country all around. The other night we shot several. Well, dad, pass this letter around the family. Please show it to John. Tell George Grey I will bring him something or die in the attempt.

With love to all and as ever your loving son,

JAMES.

ate School grounds he specialized on athletic games although he spoke too of the Greek contests, the discus throw, the javlin throw, high jump, broad jump, wrestling, etc. His system is carefully worked out in the manual which he is urging the schools to put into practice for all the children, though it is specially revised for use with girls. It is designed to give children co-ordination in use of all the muscles of their bodies.

After inquiring into the methods of training which have been practiced at the Intermediate and noting the response of pupils to his direction, he said it was evident to him the instructors have been doing some very good work of the right sort, and that it is the best he has found thus far in his week in Southern California. In short, he was very complimentary.

The teachers appeared to be greatly interested in his theories and demonstrations and more than one indorsed his recommendation to banish calisthenics and substitute games, especially if they could be played in the open air.

At all the sessions there was a large attendance of teachers from surrounding towns as well as Glendale.

When the afternoon program closed, tea and cake were served in the domestic science department of the Intermediate School.
